

Declaration of refusal to be vaccinated

Herewith I refuse to be vaccinated. My will has the highest legal priority.
My refusal is mandatory for the medical doctor.

According to the World Medical Association's Declarations of Tokio and Lisboa it is worldwide forbidden to all medical doctors to take action against the patient's will. No medical doctor is allowed to force medical measures, here: vaccination, on the patient. For every doctor those medical norms have the status of law and are legally binding. A medical doctor must not obey any law that is contrary to those declarations.

Every vaccination compulsorily executed against my will constitutes an act of grievous bodily harm and dangerous bodily injury, up to insidious attempted murder.

The mere attempt itself to force vaccination on me by threatening me is forbidden and punishable as criminal coercion.

It is well known already that the vaccine to be used contains neurotoxins and metabolic toxins. Severe bodily damages are to be expected: headache, vertigo, concentration disorders, tooth loss, diarrhoea, stomach and intestinal ulcer, visual defects and hearing defective, speech disorders and impaired balance, paralysis, rising from the feet up to lethal respiratory paralysis, cancer, damaging of liver and kidneys, Alzheimer's disease, autism of children. These damages are documented and known to the medical doctors.

The information about a large number of other ingredients is withheld. Therefore it must be reckoned with additional life-endangering complications, for example by unforeseeable allergic reactions up to lethal shocks.

In terms of criminal law: grievous bodily harm and dangerous bodily injury, insidious attempted murder.

In terms of civil law: the medical doctor is liable without limitation for all my bodily harms und injuries occuring as a consequence of the vaccination.

Aware of these things, in execution of his, the medical doctor's legal guarantee-position (statutory duty and responsibility to protect the patient in any way), and to avoid a criminal charge that otherwise will be brought against him, the signing medical doctor declares that he will not perform a vaccination against my will.

Furthermore, the medical doctor opposes and counters every attempt – e.g. an attempt of administrative character – that coerces me to give my consent. The named declarations of the World Medical Association demand that from him, too.
